

Zoe's Club®

Saving Money With Style

The Zoe's Club® Financial Literacy Award is given to children who study the importance of money management. Financial Literacy is more than how money is managed, but also how purchases are weighed as wise financial decisions. To obtain the Zoe's Club® Financial Literacy Award the following activities must be completed:

Date Completed	To Do
	Make a list and go shopping with a parent or guardian and write down cost comparison options.
	Virtually shop with a budget of $100, or go to a store and write down what you would choose for this amount. Discuss why you selected these items.
	Read a money-related kids book.
	Create a SMART list for Financial Goals, your Wants and Needs, and discuss with your parent or guardian how you plan to accomplish the list.
	Play a board game where making money is involved.
	Discuss the difference between credit and cash with an adult.
	Discuss how your grandparents approached finances with your parents.
	Discuss a career goal you want to achieve when you grow up and how you will take care of yourself.
